Jobsite Location: 1120 Nassau St. Delray Beach, FL / Luciano Residence

We hereby submit specifications and estimates for:

The elevation and relocation of an existing wood frame residential structure.

Our work will include the following:

- Mobilization of machinery, equipment, and personnel to jobsite location.
- Install temporary shoring/ jacking stands inside existing structure.
- Install temporary steel lifting platform through-out door and window openings, as well as cut new openings in the existing frame walls as needed.
- Provide and install steel lifting ledgers attached to existing wood studs using (3) $\frac{1}{4}$ " diameter lags per stud.
- Install shoring towers on top of steel lifting platform to roof framing.
- Provide hydraulic crib jacks and Unified Hydraulic Jacking System.
- Elevate structure up approximately six feet from existing elevation.
- Relocate structure approximately eleven feet (11') toward Nassau St.
- Relocate structure approximately ten inches (10") toward adjacent property.
- Leave structure elevated to allow for the installation of a new foundation (new foundation and floor framing by others).
- Re-mobilize to jobsite location.
- Lower structure onto new foundation and remove lifting equipment.
- De-mobilize completely from jobsite location.
- Note: Demolition and fireplace removal by others.

Exclusions: Permit fees, plans, termite treatment, density tests, demolition, construction, landscaping, site prep, pilings, dumpsters, utility disconnects/ reconnects, and surveys.
