Ferline Mesidort recently completed a housing rehabilitation for Mr. Haynes, a 91 year old male whose home hadn't had any repairs in over 15+ years. Initially when the project was bid out the costs came in at over $81,000 however Ferline and her staff suggested partnering with outside subcontractor to reduce the cost. With luck, Habitat for Humanity agreed to do majority of the work with the bidding contractor at a reduction of $30,000.

Today, Mr. Haynes is able to cook in his kitchen which had been unusable for quite a while, the bathrooms and doors are ADA accessible among a lot of other items and he is thankful for the improvements. This project has been completed in conjunction throughout years of Code non-compliance. Ferline and her staff worked above and beyond to making sure Mr. Haynes received all the help he could. Teamwork at its finest! Please see attached Pictures...
