Historic 5th Ave Cottages

Two historically significant cottages in the Historic West Settlers District are getting minor repairs in preparation for new tenants, thanks to the Delray Beach Community Redevelopment Agency.

“Preserving the cottages, revitalizing the historic NW/SW 5th Avenue commercial corridor, and spurring economic development are mutually supportive activities that all serve to help the CRA achieve its overall mission and purpose.” More

Meet Tracy Waterlander, CRA Executive Coordinator

“I love that I get to wear many hats with this role and show off my versatile skill set. I enjoy doing a little bit of everything and being able to assist my team in more ways than one,” said Waterlander, 31, who has a background in both administration and marketing. “I particularly enjoy anytime I can contribute in a creative way to something my team is working on...” More

EJS Project: Building Tomorrow's Leaders

“I founded the EJS Project back in 2014 when I looked around at certain conditions in my community and began to feel doubtful about our communities future. I felt our youth lacked the guidance, support and access to opportunities needed in order to have a desire to do better,” said Emanuel “Dupree” Jackson, Jr., founder of the Emanuel Jackson Sr. Project (EJS Project).
