17.1.1 In the event that any portion of the Premises is condemned during the Option Term and Tenant exercises the Option to purchase the Premises, the purchase price of the Premises after the restoration of same shall be adjusted to reflect the condemnation in accord with the method set forth herein. Firstly, Tenant and Landlord shall use their best efforts and act in good faith in attempting to agree to the amount of decrease in value of the Premises after restoration of same as a result of the partial condemnation. If said efforts fail to reach an agreement within a reasonable time, each party shall hire an independent real property appraiser, who is properly licensed in the state of Florida and a designated member of the Appraisal Institute (MAI) who shall render a formal appraisal as to the amount of decrease in value of the Premises after restoration of same as a result of a partial condemnation. If the difference between the two appraisal values is equal to or less than 10% of the greater value given by the two appraisals, then the parties shall average the two appraisal values together and subtract said average from the purchase price in order to determine the reduced value of the Premises after restoration of same. If the two appraisal values differ by more than 10% of the greater value given by the two appraisals, then the two appraisers used shall agree upon and appoint a third appraiser (the cost of which shall be split evenly by Tenant and Landlord) to perform an appraisal as to the amount of decrease in value of the Premises after restoration of same as a result of a partial condemnation. If the difference between this third appraisal value is equal to or less than 10% of either of the previous two appraisals (with 10% being calculated by taking 10% of the appraisal with the greater value given), then the parties shall average these two appraisal values together and subtract said average from the purchase price in order to determine the reduced value of the Premises after restoration of same.
