

Arts Warehouse Undergoes Renovations Ahead of June 2026 Reopening

The closure also offered a moment of reflection. “We also had a chance to look back over the last 8+ years on so many successes and interesting exhibitions that we shared through social media ‘throwbacks,’” Gdaniec said. “There’s a lot to be proud of and grateful for within our small team and community.” More

Meet Lukas Maas, Program Assistant at CRA and Arts Warehouse

What Lukas values most is the community the institution creates around itself. “What I enjoy most about being a part of Arts Warehouse is that it resembles an ecosystem,” he said. “Whether it be artists, curators, visitors, workshop instructors, or arts administrators from other galleries or museums, we’re all brought together with the sole reason being the institution itself.” More

The 12th Annual Summer GreenMarket Returns to Delray Beach

The Delray Beach GreenMarket has been a Saturday morning staple since 1996, when the CRA launched it as an open-air marketplace for the community. The Summer GreenMarket carries on that tradition through the warmer months, giving residents and visitors a reason to get outside each weekend. More

STORIES

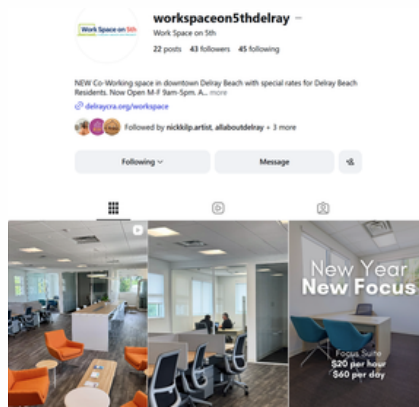

DISSEMINATION OF INFORMATION TOOLS

April - May

Instagram Engagement: 7.4k
Followers: 6,213 +100

Facebook 92k views
5,792

Work Space on 5th Instagram Account

E-Newsletters

Facebook Event Listings

