

WHEREAS, recreational boating is fun and enjoyable, and we are fortunate that we have sufficient resources to accommodate the wide variety of pleasure boating demands; and;

WHEREAS, not knowing or obeying the Navigation Rules or the nautical “Rules of the Road,” drinking alcohol or taking drugs while operating a boat, or choosing not to wear your life jacket when doing so is clearly not the smart thing to do, are all examples of human error or a lack of proper judgment; and

WHEREAS, one particular behavior that can reduce the number of boaters who lose their lives by drowning each year by approximately 80% is the wearing of a life jacket. It is a simple task that has the potential to reduce terrible loss in lives; and

WHEREAS, knowledge and skills are important in reducing human error and improving judgment. If people are aware of the risk, they are likely to take the precautionary measures to protect themselves and their friends and family; and

WHEREAS, that is why we must continue to spread the messages of boating safety not only during National Safe Boating Week but also throughout the entire year; and

WHEREAS, on average, 700 people die each year in boating-related accidents in the U.S.; approximately 70% of these are fatalities caused by drowning; and

WHEREAS, the vast majority of these accidents are caused by human error or poor judgment and not by the boat, equipment, or environmental factors. A significant number of boaters who lose their lives by drowning each year would be alive today had they worn their life jackets; and

WHEREAS, today's life jackets are more comfortable, more attractive, and more wearable than styles of years past and deserve a fresh look by today's boating public.

NOW THEREFORE, I, CARY D. GLICKSTEIN, Mayor of the City of Delray, Florida, on behalf of the City Commission, do hereby proclaim May 20-26, 2017, as: in the City of Delray Beach. We urge all citizens to start the year-round effort of promoting safe boating habits by encouraging all those who boat, to “Wear it.”

NATIONAL SAFE BOATING WEEK

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Official Seal of the City of Delray Beach, Florida, to be affixed this 16th day of May 2017.

CARY D. GLICKSTEIN
MAYOR
