Background:

At its meeting of June 26, 2017, the Historic Preservation Board (HPB) approved the relocations and demolition of the structures referenced above in the "Recommended Action" section of this report. The HPB voted to deny the Class V site plan application and the additional COAs for five structure relocations and two structure demolitions. At its meeting of July 18, 2017, the City Commission appealed the HPB approvals of the relocations and demolitions of the structures, which are those referenced above and now under consideration by the City Commission. It is noted that applicant submitted a request to appeal the HPB denials of proposed relocations and demolitions. The applicant withdrew the appeal (see attached letter dated October 4, 2017 from Dunay Miskel Backman, LLP). On September 6, 2017, the applicant submitted a new site plan application for a mixed use project known as "Midtown Delray". The proposed relocation/reconstruction of buildings "D," "G," and "H" are in the same proposed locations as presented in the COAs. Thus, approval of these relocations/reconstruction would not be in conflict with the Midtown Delray application. Further, the demolition approvals would not be in conflict with the current Midtown Delray project since these structures are proposed to be demolished in the same manner under both projects.

The staff report for each COA is included.

At its meeting of October 17, 2017, the City Commission considered this appeal for the relocations and demolitions. At that time the City Commission postponed consideration of the appeals until such time as the site plan was brought forward to the HPB for consideration. The site plan and associated requests was considered by the HPB at their December 19, 2017 meeting, and is subject to the applicant's appeal which is also part of the February 6, 2018, City Commission agenda.
