Board Comments

Price Patton – Ecstatic that they got away from the old colors. Wishes the new colors were more textured.

Dana Post Adler – Read an excerpt from an article that she read about colors and emotions. This building needs a face lift and color change. Adamantly opposed to the colors.

John Brewer – Neutral colors. Could have landscaping to spruce it up.

Andrea Sherman – Does not like it.

Andreka Youngblood – Better than the previous color but not a warm feel.

Carol Perez – Doesn't find it offensive. Suggests using the old awnings or a grey and white stripe.

Minutes of the January 13, 2021 SPRAB Meeting

Todd L'Herrou – Doesn't love the combination. Likes Carol Perez's idea of sticking with the blue awnings. It is still an improvement.

Andreka Youngblood – No comment.

John Brewer – More parking seems to make a better quality of life for those living there.

Price Patton – Makes the neighborhood safer. Not a big fan of the tree fund. The lighting makes it safer.

Andrea Sherman – It's a great improvement for the parking and the entrance.

Dana Post Adler – Looks great; safer and more aesthetically pleasing.

Todd L'Herrou – Understands the FPL pole situation. It makes a lot of sense for them to stick with the original poles.

Price Patton – Likes the open space. Not a huge fan of the architecture. Appreciates the effort.

Andrea Sherman – Architecture is up to date. The project is lovely.

Andreka Youngblood – Loves how it looks. It's better than before.

Carol Perez – More suitable than the first options given.

Dana Post Adler – Vast improvement over what was proposed originally. Thanked Bradley Miller for getting in touch with the Board and the residents. The stucco scoring seems a little hodgepodge in the models and they should be consistent. They should use the flat or the ridged, not both.

Bradley Miller responded that they'd be good with going all flat.

John Brewer – Thanked Mr. Miller and the team for putting in so much work with this. Has his blessing!

Todd L'Herrou – They listened to what the Board had to say last time and that is appreciated.

Motion to APPROVE the Class II Site Plan Modification, Landscape Plan and Architectural Elevations for a Master Development Plan, was made by Price Patton and seconded by John Brewer.

Andrea Sherman – Did a great job. It's exciting, it's got a retro feel to it. Loves the roofline. Thinks it's great and really likes it.

Dana Post Adler – The building is very beautiful.

John Brewer – Great job. The area definitely needs this with the designs and the buildings that are currently in place. This is going to be a beautiful little gem that hopefully will spur more ideas like this and keep that moving forward so the area can take on its own character.

Price Patton – Loves how they achieved a cantilevered look from the ground by maintaining a flat roof. It's a cool concept. All for it; looks great.

Andreka Youngblood – Looks very nice.

Todd L'Herrou – Great job. Loves this. It's not inconsistent with other buildings in Delray, and yet it's a new twist on it in a fun, playful kind of way that's very consistent with the uses intended inside of it. Really likes what was done and how it was made to work in a very difficult space.

Motion to APPROVE the Class III Site Plan Modification, Landscape Plan and Architectural Elevations, was made by Andreka Youngblood and seconded by Dana Post Adler.

MOTION CARRIED 6-0.

Carol Perez returned to the meeting.

Richard Jones responded to the concerns made by the public comment phone call.

Board Comments.

Carol Perez – The site plan has inconsistencies and is overwhelming. It's a repetitive cube. Huge issue how building looks from the west side. Doesn't believe it meets code and challenges the site plan in that regard, and also the lack of landscape.

Price Patton – Applicant hasn't met the code; he needs to go back and correct it. If it's a code violation, would like to send it back to staff for clarification.

Andreka Youngblood – The building looks really nice and gives it a different feel.

Dana Post Adler – The building is beautiful. Site plan seems too big for the space.

John Brewer – Concern is that it's a great backyard area, but there might be some noise issues. Unique and will add a vibrance to the area.

Andrea Sherman – Likes it. Compliment to the contemporary building across the street. It perks up the area.

Todd L'Herrou – Is the landscaping really going to meet the City's code for the requirements around the parking spaces? This will be the most imposing building in several blocks in this area. It will be a change to the feel in the neighborhood.

William Bennett, Assistant City Attorney addressed comments from emails sent by Thomas Carney.

Richard Jones asked for a break to speak with the owner of the property and Todd L'Herrou approved a 10-minute break.

Richard Jones reported back to the Board, that the owner is willing to provide an easement 3 ft for access maintenance repairs or any type of beautification of the Sail Inn building.

Motion to CONTINUE the meeting past 10:00 p.m. was made by Price Patton and seconded by John Brewer.
